

Title: Bounty BoardBackground:

This times people are busy all the time and often times don't have enough for simple task such as washing dishes, cutting grass, babysitting, etc.

Current Conditions:

If you need a small job done you either do it yourself or hire someone via some website. For small jobs there aren't many websites. Most specialize in one job rather than various different jobs. There website to hire babysitters, handymans, and other small jobs

Target(s)/Goal(s)

This product targets those people that are busy working and bring their home with them to home or simply for people who are willing to pay others to do small jobs they don't want to do. Also for people that want to gain some side income from doing simple jobs close to them.

Analysis

The root motivation of the product.

- People don't have enough time
- People are too lazy

People like to make easy money

Jean P. Lugo RoldanProposed Countermeasure(s):

The best way to solve this issue would be for another person to do the job for you. The best way to get someone to do the job for you in the fastest amount of time possible is for someone on you're neighborhood. If there is a way to connect all of this people together and notify them when a job is requested then the proposed problem could be solved.

Implementation Plan:

Build an app that allows the users to ask for simple services for a price. The app would notify other users within a close enough radius. The users could negotiate the price or the app could make some fix cost or different types of jobs.

The users will provide feedback about the services provided by another user.

There will be a dashboard containing all the jobs requested nearby at all times with all the info (salary, directions, etc.)

Follow Up:

Remaining issues that can be anticipated.

- The app needs a big enough network of people for it to work.
